

Job Description: Deputy Research Director

The North Carolina Democratic Party is seeking a Deputy Research Director for the election cycle. The Deputy Research Director would report to the Research Director and work closely with the Communications team and House and Senate caucuses. This position will work on high-profile state legislative races that will help decide the balance of North Carolina General Assembly. The position is based in Raleigh, N.C. with the possibility of occasional travel.

Qualifications and Skills:

- 1-2 cycles of opposition research experience
- Skilled in working with a multitude of databases, like Lexis Nexis, and media monitoring software
- Strong organizational skills
- Ability to work independently and collaboratively
- Ability to operate at a high-level in stressful environments
- Ability to manage several tasks/projects concurrently
- Some technical savvy preferred
- A passion for Democratic politics is a must

Salary is commensurate with experience.

To apply please send a cover letter, resume, writing sample (your discretion) and salary history to jobs@ncdemocraticparty.org. Please only list the words “Deputy Research Director Application” in the subject line. Applications improperly submitted will not be accepted.

The North Carolina Democratic Party is an equal opportunity employer. We will not discriminate and will take affirmative action measures to ensure against discrimination in employment, recruitment, advertisements for employment, compensation, termination, upgrading, promotions, and other conditions of employment against any employee or job applicant on the bases of race, color, gender, national origin, age, religion, creed, disability, veteran’s status, sexual orientation, gender identify or gender expression.